Inside Back Cover
DEAR FRIENDS:

As our hospital begins our second century of service to southwest Ohio, I’m proud to report to you that Atrium Medical Center has never been stronger. With new physicians and new services, we’re growing and adapting to provide the care you deserve, close to home.

As your full-scale hospital, we offer a wide range of advanced care for you and your family, all in one convenient location. To help you fit the care you need into your busy life, we offer health centers in Mason and Trenton – and two opening soon in Monroe and Liberty – with physician offices, imaging and lab services, urgent care (in Mason) and more. Our mobile mammography coach makes it easy for busy women to get a potentially life-saving screening close to home or work. Our Senior Emergency Center caters to the unique needs of older adults.

Atrium is deeply and passionately committed to improving the health of southwest Ohio beyond our facilities’ walls. For years we’ve partnered with other community groups and law enforcement to fight the opioid epidemic that’s ravaging our region. We’re promoting health and wellness in numerous ways, most recently by sponsoring the Premier Health Atrium Medical Center Bike Park in Lebanon. And every day, we care for all who need us, regardless of their ability to pay.

For more than 100 years, we’ve been here for you and your family. So many of you have supported our shared mission of building healthier communities with your contributions of time, talent and treasure. We are deeply grateful.

You can count on Atrium to be your destination of choice, with enduring leadership and care for you. Together, we’ll make our southwest Ohio communities even stronger.

Gratefully,

Michael R. Uhl
President, Atrium Medical Center
PROUD OF OUR ENDURING SERVICE TO YOU

At Atrium Medical Center Foundation, we’re only as effective as our donors empower us to be. We’re delighted to assure you that with outstanding support from throughout southwest Ohio, the Foundation is excelling at serving Atrium’s patients, their loved ones and our communities.

In 2017, we celebrated two significant milestones: our hospital’s 100th anniversary and Atrium’s 10th anniversary of caring. As we looked back at our proud history, we remembered with gratitude all the visionary, committed men and women who have stepped up to improve health care for their neighbors. To honor them – and to position Atrium for success in the century ahead – we launched the Tomorrow’s Promise: Continuing the Legacy campaign. The success of phase one, Fulfilling a Promise to Our Elders, enabled Atrium to open our Senior Emergency Center. Phase two, The Promise of Hope, is improving behavioral health care. This year, A Promise to You – the final phase – will create a better experience for patients and families.

Today, the Foundation’s assets stand strong at more than $23.6 million, an all-time high. Funds are raised in many ways, including annual campaigns and special events. Some donors choose enduring options that touch the future. They create or contribute to endowments – often in honor or memory of a loved one – that leave a legacy and support Atrium’s patients now and for generations to come (please see page 16). Members of the Heritage Society (page 36) include the Foundation in their will or estate plans. No matter how you contribute, we’re deeply grateful for every gift that enables us to do more good here in southwest Ohio.

We’re fortunate that so many individuals, families, businesses and organizations make our enduring service possible. Among those we highlight in this report are:

• Dr. William and Marcia Andrew, Bill and Connie Rathman, Chris and Laura Hopper and other individuals and families who step up to make a difference

• Gemma Power Systems, LLC, partnering with the Foundation to complete the 1.3-mile campus loop trail and support the HEAL endowment

• Anita Scott Jones and Lyndon Jones, who funded a scholarship endowment to honor Anita’s mother and aunt

• Atrium Auxiliary Middletown, Middletown Area Federation of Women’s Clubs and other groups that make service a way of life

Atrium’s second century lies before us, with even more opportunities to serve and grow. The Foundation is energized and ready for the challenge. Thank you for partnering with us in our mission of enduring service.

AN ENDURING APPRECIATION FOR THEIR COMMUNITY
MARCIA AND WILLIAM ANDREW, MD

As soon as William Andrew, MD, finished medical school and residency in Cincinnati, he moved his family to Middletown. Luckily for Middletown, they’ve been here ever since. In his 22 years with Hilltop Obstetrics & Gynecology, Dr. Andrew has enjoyed a deep association with Middletown Regional Hospital and Atrium Medical Center. A long-time champion for physicians, he currently serves as Atrium’s chief of staff.

To show his enduring appreciation for the community that has supported him his entire career, Dr. Andrew is consistently generous to Atrium Medical Center Foundation, especially to causes that mean a lot to his patients.

"Obstetricians revel in the thrill of bringing a healthy baby into the world," he says. That’s one reason he provides ongoing support to the Atrium Maternal Health Clinic. Low-income women receive obstetric and gynecologic care, and those who are pregnant get the care they need for a healthy outcome.

“But sometimes a birth isn’t the happiest of times for a family,” he adds. That’s why Dr. Andrew also supports HEAL (Help Endure a Loss), which assists families suffering from miscarriage, stillbirth, or neonatal or childhood death. “I feel exceptionally close to these two causes,” says the generous physician.

Although Dr. Andrew’s wife, Marcia, is an attorney who has worked her entire career at Taft Law in Cincinnati, she shares his passion for helping Middletown thrive.

She served on the Middletown School Board of Education for 12 years, six as president. And she is currently chair of United Way of Greater Cincinnati – Middletown Area, working to improve lives in the community she loves.

Because both are strong supporters of community health and wellness, they were eager to get involved with the Foundation. The Andrews teamed up to co-chair the third Charity Night at the Tables in 2013 that benefited both the hospital’s Emergency Trauma Center and Atrium Family YMCA.

Throughout their 26-year marriage, this busy couple is most proud of their three children, all graduates of Middletown High School. Alexander is a teacher in the Washington, DC, area since graduating from Kenyon College. Rachel works for Miami University in Oxford. Mark is a systems engineer major at the University of Pennsylvania and an Ivy League record holder in two events for the school’s swim team.

To show his enduring appreciation for the community that has supported him his entire career, Dr. Andrew is consistently generous to Atrium Medical Center Foundation, especially to causes that mean a lot to his patients.
“We don’t have the ability to write a big check, but we want to make an impact.” That’s how Anita Scott Jones explains why she and her husband, Lyndon, have included Atrium Medical Center Foundation in their will. In this way, the couple knows that the goodwill they provide their community will make an enduring impact long after they are gone. But they also want to make an impact now.

Anita’s attitude of gratitude was instilled at an early age. Growing up in Montgomery, Alabama, she has fond memories of her mother, Emma Scott, and aunt, Myrtle Bozeman. “These two women taught me that when times are hard, they’ll get easier if you help someone else instead of concentrating on your problems,” says Anita. To honor these inspiring women, Anita, with Lyndon’s blessing, used insurance to fund an endowment in their names to pay for scholarships. “We want to help Atrium caregivers who do their very best and want to advance their careers to do more for patients,” she says.

Learning and helping others is central to Anita’s life. She works full-time at Atrium Medical Center as hospital relations director and teaches at Cincinnati State’s Middletown campus and Antioch University Midwest. Anita is also a student, soon to receive her doctorate in educational leadership. She also facilitates a partnership between the city of Middletown and the Warren County Opioid Task Force, searching for solutions to the community’s opioid epidemic.

Lyndon, who grew up in Middletown, mirrors Anita’s passion for giving. “I call him my blessing from God,” says Anita. She recalls when they fell on hard times. “It threw us for a loop for a minute. We had to regroup, but we still gave what we could.” Their family includes two adult sons, two granddaughters and three godchildren.

Anita’s resourcefulness was honed in Alabama, where she worked in the prosecutor’s office for nearly 20 years. She and Lyndon relocated to Middletown in 2000. Anita quickly made her mark in the community by being elected to serve at-large on Middletown City Council. Of her eight years on council, she spent two and a half as vice mayor.

Today, Anita continues to be very engaged with the community on behalf of the hospital. Through the Foundation, she and Lyndon together are making an impact now and for years to come.
“We want to help Atrium caregivers who do their very best and want to advance their careers to do more for patients.”
MAKING THEIR MARK ON MIDDLETOWN

GEMMA POWER SYSTEMS, LLC

When Connecticut-based Gemma Power Systems, LLC, launches a building project, it’s more – a lot more – than bricks and mortar. During each project, Gemma collaborates with local leaders to identify a community need and selects an organization around which to marshal company resources. This commitment to stewardship is built into Gemma’s DNA.

“Community support is a hallmark of the Gemma project experience and one we are proud to deliver to our customers, suppliers, subcontractors and the local communities we work and live in,” explains William F. Griffen, Jr., Gemma Power Systems chief executive officer.

MORE POWER TO MIDDLETOWN

In late 2015, Gemma came to Middletown to begin construction on a next-generation, $600 million, 500-megawatt electric-generating facility hailed as a game-changer by city leaders.

Bottom left: Gemma Power Systems’ leadership team showed their community commitment by sponsoring and hosting the HEAL Golf Tournament in 2017.

Below: Thanks to Gemma Power Systems and their subcontractors who donated their services, Atrium’s 1.3-mile campus loop trail was completed in 2017. The project includes the new Centennial Garden to celebrate the hospital’s 100th anniversary.
“We want to make an enduring mark, not just leave a footprint,” explains Dan Ward, PE, Gemma’s Middletown Energy Center project manager. Not long after he arrived in town, Dan met Michael Stautberg, Atrium Medical Center Foundation president. “Mike told me about the unfinished stretch of the 1.3-mile walking trail that loops around Atrium’s campus,” remembers Dan, “and it seemed like a natural fit for Gemma.”

Dan assigned the trail construction project to Chris Trujillo, a Gemma civil superintendent experienced in hardscape who, in turn, enlisted the support of Gemma’s local subcontractors. The project, which includes the Centennial Garden with a water feature, pergola and extensive landscaping, is valued at just under $300,000.

On October 10, 2017, Atrium Medical Center and Foundation leaders, civic officials and representatives from Gemma cut the ribbon to open the newly christened Carol J. Turner Trail, named in honor of the former Atrium president and CEO who was a passionate supporter of the project.

TEEING UP FOR HEAL

With construction of the walking trail underway, Gemma turned its attention to another project – HEAL (Help Endure a Loss), which offers comfort and reassurance to families coping with the loss of an infant. “HEAL hit home with our team,” Dan notes. “The positive response was unanimous.”

On August 11, 2017, Gemma sponsored and hosted a charity golf tournament at Yankee Trace Golf Club in Centerville. The event raised $44,500 for the HEAL endowment. Sixty of Gemma’s sub-contractors and vendors also supported the tournament.

Completion of the Turner Trail and the HEAL Golf Tournament speak to the positive project experience Gemma brings to a community. “We are sincerely grateful for Gemma’s tremendous generosity and dedication,” notes Michael Stautberg. “Gemma is leaving us an enduring legacy.”
ENTHUSIASTICALLY RAISING FUNDS THAT TOUCH LIVES, IMPROVE HEALTH

CHRIS AND LAURA HOPPER

Chris and Laura Hopper have always enjoyed Atrium’s Charity Night at the Tables. Poker, blackjack, silent auctions and good food with friends is a recipe for fun. And with two little boys, Gavin, 4, and Ethan, 2, the event is a great opportunity to get away for the evening for a good cause.

So when the Hoppers were asked to chair the 2017 event, this young couple figured, why not? An Atrium Medical Center Foundation board member since 2016, Chris has been supporting Atrium since his employer, Skanska USA Building Inc., named him project manager for the medical center’s construction, completed in 2007. In fact, Chris chaired the first golf outing that benefited the hospital.

The assignment allowed him to make Ohio his home, and has led to many more projects in the area, including a freestanding emergency department for Premier Health and an addition to Miami Valley Hospital. Chris is now an executive vice president and general manager for Skanska.

A graduate of Purdue University, Chris met Laura, a Michigan State grad, when he was a guest at her brother’s wedding. Three years later, in 2011, they married and now live in West Chester. “We’re happy to be raising our family in the area,” says Laura, who grew up in Temperance, Michigan. Chris hails from Gillette, Wyoming.

Both rave about the work of the committee who helped them plan Charity Night. “They ran like a well-oiled machine,” says Laura. “I can’t say enough about how dedicated and hardworking everyone was on the committee.” Planning the event gave Laura, a former fifth grade teacher in Eaton, a chance to “get away from the boys and have some adult conversations!”

Proceeds from the event, which raised nearly $24,000, benefit Atrium’s Emergency Trauma Center and the Atrium Family YMCA. “I love that the Foundation puts every dollar to use where it will have the greatest impact in our community,” says Chris. “The Foundation makes an enduring impact by touching lives and improving health. Laura and I like being a part of that mission,” he adds.

Who is that woman in the seasonally decorated purple golf cart zipping by? It’s none other than Constance “Connie” Rathman, out and about in her Hilton Head Island, South Carolina, neighborhood. Connie and her husband, Bill, moved from Middletown to Hilton Head in 2014. Sadly for all who knew and loved him, Bill passed away in June 2018 after an extended illness. While mourning the loss of her husband of almost 60 years, Connie has carried on in her inimitable optimistic and gracious style – golf cart included.

The Rathmans’ Middletown roots run deep. Bill’s parents, Ernest and Marguerite, were born in Middletown. His mother was a member of the Sebald family, whose iconic brewery was a Middletown institution. The elder Rathmans owned the furniture store Rathman-Troup, as well as area pharmacies and dry cleaners.

Their hometown hospital has always been important to the Rathmans. Bill served on the original Foundation board during the 1980s, when the hospital expanded into a regional presence. Connie was a member of the hospital auxiliary and chair of the Middletown Area Federation of Women’s Clubs Charity Ball in 1966. Both Connie and Bill participated in the hospital’s now-legendary High Fever Follies.

The Rathmans generously supported Atrium Medical Center Foundation’s capital campaign, were initial donors to the Health and Wellness Partnership Endowment, and over the years gave to annual campaigns targeting specific hospital programs. The Rathmans are also members of the Heritage Society, for those who include Atrium in their estate plans.

Born at Middletown Hospital in 1927, Bill earned a bachelor’s degree in history from Kenyon College, studied for a master’s degree at Harvard and earned a law degree from Ohio State. In 1975, Bill received a degree in theology from Union Theological Seminary and served as a deacon at Ascension Episcopal Church in Middletown.
Connie (née Schedler) was born in Manila, Philippines, where her father had business dealings. The family later moved to Oklahoma, where Connie majored in communications and English at the University of Tulsa.

Young Bill and Connie met while on a Far Eastern cruise with their parents, who were friends. While the families dined at the captain’s table, Bill’s younger sister and Connie’s older brother took a shine to each other. When they eventually married, Connie was a bridesmaid. She jokes that Bill was assigned to “take care of the girl from Oklahoma.”

Bill joined the Navy during World War II when he was 17 and served in the Navy’s Atlantic Fleet. After college he joined the Air Force Reserves as a captain, where he served for 19 years.

Bill established a successful law practice (Rathman, Elliott & Boyd) in Middletown. He retired at age 70. The couple has two children, Bill Jr. and Marchie (both born at Middletown Hospital), and four grandchildren, all of whom live nearby.

Connie and Bill happily settled into the beauty and lifestyle of Hilton Head. Connie, an award-winning painter, is involved in the local art scene. “It’s paradise here,” she says. “Bill loved it as much as I do, but Middletown and Atrium Medical Center Foundation have always held a place in our hearts.”

“Middletown and Atrium Medical Center Foundation have always held a place in our hearts.”
ANNUAL EVENTS
PUT THE ‘FUN’ IN FUNDRAISING
JAMES A. COMBS MEMORIAL GOLF TOURNAMENT

For the 23rd consecutive year, area golfers enjoyed the James A. Combs Memorial Golf Tournament, held on May 19, 2017. The event is named after the late Middletown community leader, prosecutor, trial attorney and municipal judge. Dozens of community sponsors generously provided support.

Chaired by Dan and Steve Dobrozsi, the tournament is a partnership of Atrium Medical Center Foundation and Kiwanis Club Middletown, which share the proceeds. The Foundation’s portion, which exceeded $25,000, benefited the Dr. E. Ronald Oches Endowment supporting the health care needs of children. Kiwanis Club proceeds provide scholarships for nursing students and eyeglasses for those in need.

HEAL COMMUNITY FUN FESTIVAL AND RUN/WALK

Southwest Ohio families learning to cope with the death of a child benefit from the HEAL (Help Endure a Loss) program. Whether the tragedy was due to illness, accident, miscarriage or a reason that can never be explained, the support that families receive through HEAL can be invaluable.

The event on June 10, 2017, aimed to unite these families and those who love them. The eighth annual event began with a HEALing Run/Walk at Niederman Family Farm in Liberty Township. Attendees enjoyed scenic trails while remembering the children who are no longer with them. Afterwards the HEAL Community Fun Festival turned the day into a celebration with an afternoon picnic, games, crafts and other activities. Proceeds benefited the HEAL Endowment.

CHARITY NIGHT AT THE TABLES

Our sixth annual Charity Night at the Tables on July 21, 2017, gave adults a reason to get dressed up and have a good time, all for a great cause. The Vegas-like venue at the Holiday Inn West Chester made it clear that this night was intended for fun. Attendees, armed with their own wad of ‘funny money,’ put their luck to the test at blackjack, Texas Hold ‘Em, roulette and craps tables. Auctions, raffle baskets and split-the-pot boosted everyone’s chances of walking away with something besides sore feet from their time on the dance floor.

In all, this evening of food, drink, friends and fun raised nearly $24,000 for Atrium Medical Center Foundation and the Atrium Family YMCA. Special thanks to Chris and Laura Hopper who co-chaired the event, and to the dozens of volunteers who made the evening so exceptional.

HIGHWAY TO HELP

An afternoon of fun for motorcyclists benefited community members when the third annual Highway to Help took place Saturday, August 5, 2017. Riders gathered at the Atrium campus. At noon it was “kickstands up” for a leisurely three-hour ride including some of Ohio’s oldest covered bridges throughout Butler and Warren counties. T-shirts, raffles, prizes and a first responder’s display were part of the event, culminating with a cookout at Mutt’s Brewery Lounge in Trenton.

Organized by hospital employees and volunteers, the event raised $12,000 for Atrium’s Adopt-A-Family program, which provides gifts and other necessities to area families during the holidays.
CREATE YOUR ENDURING LEGACY

ENDOWMENTS AT THE FOUNDATION

Deep inside, most of us want to know that we made a difference during our lives. Our children, our work, our volunteering, our philanthropy – all are ways to create a legacy that will live on beyond our lifetimes.

Many donors to Atrium Medical Center Foundation choose a long-lasting way to touch the future. They establish – or contribute to – endowments that support Atrium’s patients, families and health care professionals, now and for generations to come.

Three recently created endowments address the specific passions of our donors:

• Ann and Arthur Bidwell Family Endowment Fund: From life-saving medical technology to durable medical equipment to assistance with basic necessities, so many of our patients need financial help to improve their health and their lives. This endowment is making a critical difference for individuals, one person at a time.

• Sunrise Behavioral Health Endowment Fund: As Atrium and southwest Ohio fight the opioid epidemic and rising behavioral health issues, this endowment helps to ensure that Atrium’s Behavioral Health Unit can offer excellent care to all who need it, now and in the future.

• Geriatric ER Endowment Fund: Senior citizens get the specialized care they need and deserve in Atrium’s Senior Emergency Center, thanks to the generosity of hundreds of donors. This endowment helps to guarantee that the center can meet the needs of our elders for years to come.

At the heart of an endowment is the donor’s intent – often in gratitude, or in memory or honor of a loved one. The endowment’s principal remains invested, while only the annual income is used for the donor’s chosen purpose. In this way, an endowment truly is the gift that keeps on giving.

Today, the Foundation holds 50 endowments with assets of more than $5 million. Donors have established 10 new endowments in just the last two years. Together, the funds generate more than $300,000 each year to support Atrium’s life-giving work, an increase of nearly $200,000 per year over the last decade. Clearly endowments are an enduring force for good and a permanent tribute to their donors. Some are the sole source of funding for vital services.

These three funds are close to reaching $100,000 in principal contributions:

• HEAL Endowment: Supports the HEAL (Help Endure a Loss) program that provides emotional support for families who have lost a child to illness, accident, miscarriage or an unexplained cause

• Health and Wellness Partnership Endowment: Supports healthy living and better health through activities such as health fairs and screenings, research and clinical trials

• G. Robert Gage Memorial Scholarship for Allied Health Professionals: Provides scholarships for hospital employees wishing to further their training
To help celebrate our hospital’s 100 years of service to our community, we invite you to help these three endowments reach $100,000 in principal. Every gift will strengthen care in our community.

CHARITY BALL: A RECIPE PERFECTED OVER 97 YEARS

MIDDLETOWN AREA FEDERATION OF WOMEN’S CLUBS

It’s a time-tested recipe, perfected by the Middletown Area Federation of Women’s Clubs over the last 97 years, that creates a successful Charity Ball. On December 2, 2017, the recipe proved once again that fun and benevolence result when you mix:

• Dozens of generous fun-seeking volunteers
• Undying support from local businesses
• A passion to improve women’s health

Under the leadership of chairpersons Lori and Andy Guyler of Middletown, Midnight Masquerade took place at Miami University Middletown. Amidst a flood of purple and white, this jam-packed evening of fun included dinner, dancing, casino games, silent auctions and raffles. Gerry and Jacky Banks were named honorary chairs in recognition of their dedication to Atrium Medical Center and to the community.

Proceeds of more than $17,000 supported the Federation’s Endowment for Women’s Services at Atrium Medical Center. Created in 2010, this endowment supports mammograms and other preventive and diagnostic services for women who require financial assistance. Since the Charity Ball began in 1920, the Federation has donated more than $1 million to fund equipment and services at the hospital.

Lori and Andy Guyler, Charity Ball chairs, enjoy the festive evening with friends.

EASING CANCER’S BURDEN
IN MEMORY OF BOB KLOSTERMAN

Bob Klosterman didn’t know Jim Geran. But he knew that when Jim passed away in 2008, the Jim Geran Cancer Care Endowment was established at Atrium Medical Center Foundation to help pay for the personal needs of patients with cancer. Bob often contributed to the endowment. He liked knowing his gift was going directly to ease the burden of someone struggling with cancer by paying for things like transportation expenses or medical equipment for the home.

So, when Bob died in 2017 from complications of lung cancer at age 73, family and friends knew where they wanted memorial donations to be directed. “Bob was such a kind and generous man,” says Jeff Smith. “He was a wonderful mentor, like a stepfather to me and my two brothers.”

Bob had a history of helping people in need. A Vietnam veteran, he earned a Purple Heart when he was wounded while rescuing members of his platoon. “We feel sure he’d be happy to know that gifts donated in his name after he died are continuing to help people in need,” says Jeff.

Atrium Credit Union has long been empowering Premier Health employees with financial loans to improve their lives. In 2017 they took that empowerment one step further. Throughout the year, the credit union set aside $5 for every new loan closed there. The result, a check for $580, was presented to Atrium Medical Center Foundation to support the Friends in Need Fund.

The Friends in Need Fund provides up to $500 in financial assistance to medical center staff who need a helping hand due to a crisis or an unexpected expense. Established in 1982, the fund has helped to soften the impact of layoffs, illnesses, accidents, house fires and other unforeseen events.

Atrium Credit Union established their gift as a way of thanking Premier employees for their longtime partnership. That appreciation most certainly goes both ways! The Friends in Need Fund also is supported by the generosity of Atrium employees and other Atrium friends who want to provide an anonymous helping hand to their colleagues in need.

Left to right, Cindy Cottongim, Atrium Credit Union manager, and Amy Newland, a credit union board member, present a gift of $580 to Foundation President Michael Stautberg.
Every year, proceeds from the hospital’s Hilltop Gift Shop have benefited patients of Atrium Medical Center and our southwest Ohio communities. As of November 2017, Atrium Auxiliary Middletown has donated nearly $1 million in gift shop proceeds to provide equipment that does crucial work, such as helping to put a mobile mammography coach on the road, bringing the first da Vinci® surgical system to Atrium, supporting the Senior Emergency Center and more. In 2017, the Auxiliary funded a valet parking booth, new wheelchairs for Atrium’s front entrance, a calming sensory room for the Behavioral Health Unit and ongoing support for the Friend Program, which helps to make hospital visits more comfortable for patients.

To ensure the generosity continues, in 2017 the Joyce Burnett Gift Shop Endowment Fund was established. It recognizes one of Atrium Auxiliary Middletown’s most dedicated volunteers. Prior to her passing in summer 2018, Joyce selflessly gave nearly 20 years of service to Hilltop Gift Shop, totaling more than 16,000 hours. The new endowment will provide operational support for the gift shop, ensuring that patients and the community will receive everlasting benefit from its proceeds. Additional contributions to the Joyce Burnett Gift Shop Endowment Fund are gratefully welcome.

FIGHTING FOR A BREAST CANCER CURE

MIDDLETOWN DIVISION OF FIRE AND LOCAL 336

Area firefighters took on a new opponent last fall: breast cancer. In support of its “Fighting for a Cure” campaign, Middletown Division of Fire and Local 336 sold breast cancer awareness t-shirts to employees, friends and families of the city of Middletown and Atrium Medical Center.

This generous effort was a great success, raising nearly $4,000 to benefit women who can’t otherwise afford a mammogram. Atrium and the Foundation are grateful to the firefighters who adopted this cause as their own, and to all who supported them by purchasing t-shirts.

Breast cancer is the most common cancer in women. Regular mammograms are the best tests doctors have to find breast cancer early, sometimes up to three years before it can be felt, says the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

For more information about how to receive financial assistance for a mammogram, please contact the Women’s Center at Atrium at (513) 974-5237.

AN ENDURING BOND WITH HEAL FAMILIES

VOLUNTEERING WITH HEART

Since 2002, Denise Morris has followed her heart by supporting the team at Atrium Medical Center that helps parents and families cope with the loss of child. Whether the loss is due to illness, accident, miscarriage or a reason that can never be explained, HEAL (Help Endure a Loss) exists to meet the needs of grieving families.

Denise is a dedicated volunteer at numerous HEAL activities. She followed her employer’s encouragement to get involved in her community and found her calling close to home. “This program tugged at my heartstrings,” she recalls of the first time she volunteered. Denise helps to create ornaments with children’s names for the annual HEAL Memory Tree Lighting in December and works at the summer HEAL Community Fun Festival, “because these families need and deserve a day of relaxation and fun.” In fact, through her contact with HEAL families, Denise recognized their need for a day of celebration and suggested it to the HEAL team.

“I’ve seen firsthand all the good that HEAL does and want to help support it with my time and donations,” Denise says. “It’s easy and fun to volunteer. I would encourage others to get involved.” See how your employer might encourage giving back to your community through volunteering or matching gifts.
