100 Years of Memories

Welcome to our celebration of a century of compassionate and quality caring.

For 100 years, Middletown Hospital, Middletown Regional Hospital and Atrium Medical Center have welcomed newborns with joy, mended broken bones and broken hearts with skill, tended to life-threatening injuries and illnesses with speed, and cared for all who needed our help, even if they couldn't pay.

We've dedicated ourselves to building healthier communities by reaching out with care, providing meaningful jobs and partnering to make our region an even better place to live, work and play.

Thank you for joining us tonight for our biggest fundraiser, held every three years. Gala proceeds will benefit the Fulfilling a Promise to Our Elders campaign to create a better hospital experience for seniors. We'll establish a new senior-friendly geriatric emergency unit and assess and address seniors' health needs in new ways.

Tonight, we honor and respect all who have come before us, grateful for their wisdom, sacrifice and foresight. We offer deep gratitude to you – and everyone who shares our mission today – knowing that your support builds stronger, healthier individuals, families and communities. And we look ahead with anticipation, excited about our promising future yet to be written.

I hope you'll make some special memories tonight. Enjoy!

A Once-in-a-Century Event

Welcome to a gala that's been 100 years in the making! We're delighted you've joined us to celebrate a century of memories – and an exciting future.

How proud the hospital's founders would be if they could witness the fruits of their labor. Their vision for improving life for the people of this region thrives today at Atrium Medical Center, thanks to the skills, compassion and commitment of countless individuals. We remember and honor each and every one this evening. We're particularly pleased to recognize W. Thomas Scott, MD, as our 2016 Contemporary Physician Hero for his lifetime of caring for his patients, colleagues and community.

Your presence tonight is a tribute to all that the hospital has achieved – and all that is yet to be. Together, we'll make life better for the seniors in our region who have done so much for us. The gala is raising funds to create a senior-friendly geriatric emergency unit and a hospital experience suited to seniors' special needs.

Producing a once-in-a-century event requires an entire team of memory-makers. We extend a heartfelt thank you to the dedicated steering committee that has planned every detail and to everyone who has worked with them.

As long-time supporters of Atrium Medical Center Foundation, we believe in the hospital's mission and values – and we know you do, too. Thank you for joining us to make tomorrow's memories.

Sincerely,

gift amount. You'll receive a text with a blue link. Click the blue link, then enter your donation amount and credit card information.

Or reply to any text from Qtego,
our gala auction partner, with GIVE, then the amount you want to donate.

2. Donate from the silent auction website

Once you're logged in, tap
"donate." Select the amount you wish to give – or enter another amount – then press "submit donation."

3. Give by credit card or with a pledge card

The crew in orange shirts has iPads that can swipe your credit card. Foundation volunteers have paper pledge forms.

2016 Community Heroes

Honoring Our Founding Families

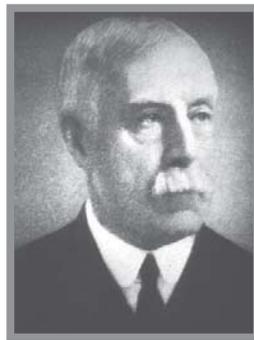

We honor three Middletown families, headed by George M. Verity, George Harvey and Colin Gardner Sr., that played a historic role in establishing our hospital and ensuring that it continues to provide excellence in care and service to the region. These visionaries launched the "Greater Middletown" initiative that made building a new hospital a local priority. They helped to acquire the land and supported the effort with leadership and funds. Their remarkable contributions were only beginning when the hospital opened in 1917. Several generations of each family have fostered the hospital's development as it has expanded with the community over the last century. Their descendants carry on their families' tradition of service today, continuing to make a difference for Atrium's patients and their loved ones.

2016 Physician Heroes

Pioneers in Building a Healthier Community

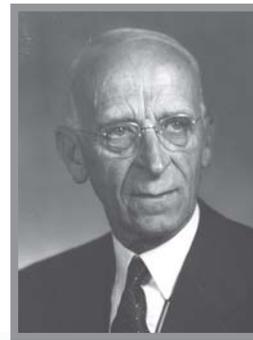

We honor Mabel E. Gardner, MD, David F. Gerber, MD, and E. O. Bauer, MD, who wholeheartedly supported building our region's hospital and fostered its growth. They were among the first to bring innovative, compassionate care to southwest Ohio. Despite the enormous challenge of a crippling flu pandemic just after the hospital opened, they persevered and served area residents with dedication throughout their long and distinguished careers. Dr. Gardner was Middletown's first female physician who delivered more than 10,000 babies over more than 50 years. Dr. Gerber was known for his compassion, extraordinary listening skills and an early focus on wellness and healthy living. Dr. Bauer admitted the hospital's first patient, performed the first surgery – a successful appendectomy – and completed the hospital's first blood transfusion.

2016 Contemporary Physician Hero

W. Thomas Scott, MD

W. Thomas Scott, MD, honored by Atrium Medical Center's Medical Staff, came to Butler County in 1966 to found Middletown Medical Associates, an internal medicine practice, along with Walter H. Roehl Jr., MD, and Raymond E. Muzzarelli, MD. Over the years, Dr. Scott became a beloved community physician with a reputation for excellence and compassion. His colleagues, co-workers and hospital staff admired his empathy and dedication, as well as his calming influence in times of stress. Dr. Scott retired in 2003, but remains active in the community and with his family. Those who know him describe Dr. Scott as a man of many interests, passions and friends who is steadfast in his support, sincere in his relationships and persevering through challenges. He has received many accolades, including a 2013 award recognizing his selfless caregiving.

Dr. Scott and his wife, Bonnie, are long-time supporters of Atrium Medical Center Foundation. Driven by a love of nature and their family farm, the Scotts gave the large blue spruce that graces the hospital's main entrance and co-created an endowment to support the hospital's outdoor artwork. The couple are members of the Heritage Society, for those who have included the Foundation in their estate plans, and Dr. Scott currently serves on the Heritage Society committee.

There For You Always

Atrium Medical Center Foundation welcomes you to our fourth triennial gala. Like our hospital that has served patients and their loved ones for a century, the Foundation has faithfully fulfilled our mission of building healthier communities since 1984.

Gifts from generous donors bridge the gap between the hospital's revenue and our communities' needs. Tax-deductible donations fund lifesaving new technologies, facilities and services that ensure advanced care is available close to home.

Tonight's event benefits the Fulfilling a Promise to Our Elders campaign to enhance care for seniors at Atrium, with creation of a new senior-friendly geriatric emergency unit. The Foundation just completed the Every Woman, Everywhere campaign that raised nearly $1 million to put a mobile mammography coach on the road in southwest Ohio and create a patient simulation laboratory for high-tech staff training. Previous campaigns have focused on pressing community needs such as care for cancer, heart disease, emergency/trauma, women and children, stroke, chronic diseases and more.

With the leadership of a dedicated board and energetic volunteers, the Foundation renews our commitment each day to touch lives and improve health for residents and businesses in our region. We couldn't do it without your support. Thank you for joining our efforts!

Fulfilling a Promise to Our Elders

Enhancing Geriatric Services at Atrium

Your presence tonight supports Atrium Medical Center Foundation's Fulfilling a Promise to Our Elders campaign to create a new, senior-friendly geriatric emergency unit within Atrium's Emergency Trauma Center – and a better hospital experience for all elderly patients.

It takes only one trip to a hospital emergency department – with its noise, waiting and uncertainty about what happens next – to realize that older adults often find it confusing, uncomfortable and even frightening. It's not uncommon for elderly patients to leave the hospital not understanding their next steps, leading to repeat hospital visits and deteriorating health.

Atrium wants to change the way seniors receive emergency care, hospital care and even care at home. When an elderly patient arrives, our staff will assess his or her needs for immediate medical care, medication evaluation, changes at home to improve health and safety, and more. The new geriatric emergency unit will have soothing colors and lighting, reduced noise levels, chairs and beds designed for older bodies, and senior-focused safety features.

The entire geriatric emergency unit team will have special training in addressing the needs of older patients. They'll create a plan to help meet all of a senior's health care needs, both in the hospital and at home. Thank you for making a difference for our seniors and those who love them.

A Century of Caring

Tonight we launch the 100th anniversary celebration of our hospital, founded in 1917 as Middletown Hospital, later known as Middletown Regional Hospital, and, since 2007, Atrium Medical Center.

Tragedy inspired the opening of this region's first hospital on March 5, 1917. Strong community support and a growing need for health services spurred the hospital's development as beds were added, new buildings were constructed and advanced technology was introduced. In addition to our primary mission of caring for the ill and injured, we also educated the next generation of caregivers and continue to reach out to the community to improve lives. Also significant is the hospital's economic impact as a major employer and asset to local businesses.

Even more important than our buildings and technology, however, are the people who have been the heart and soul of our hospital for a century. Their expertise, compassion and commitment have transformed countless lives through the years.

In the next pages, you'll meet some of the many leaders who have served our patients and community over the past century. Be sure to check out the historical banners throughout the building tonight to learn even more about our history and some of the legends who have shaped our legacy.

Here's to another 100 years!

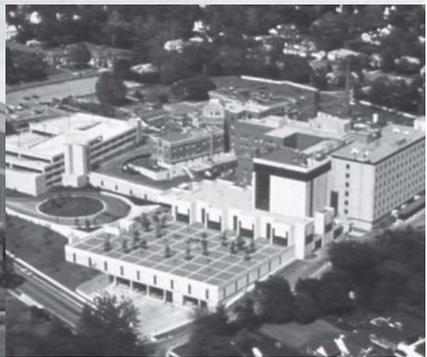

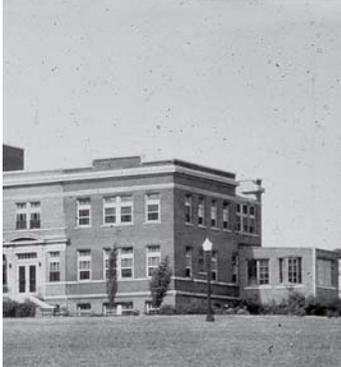

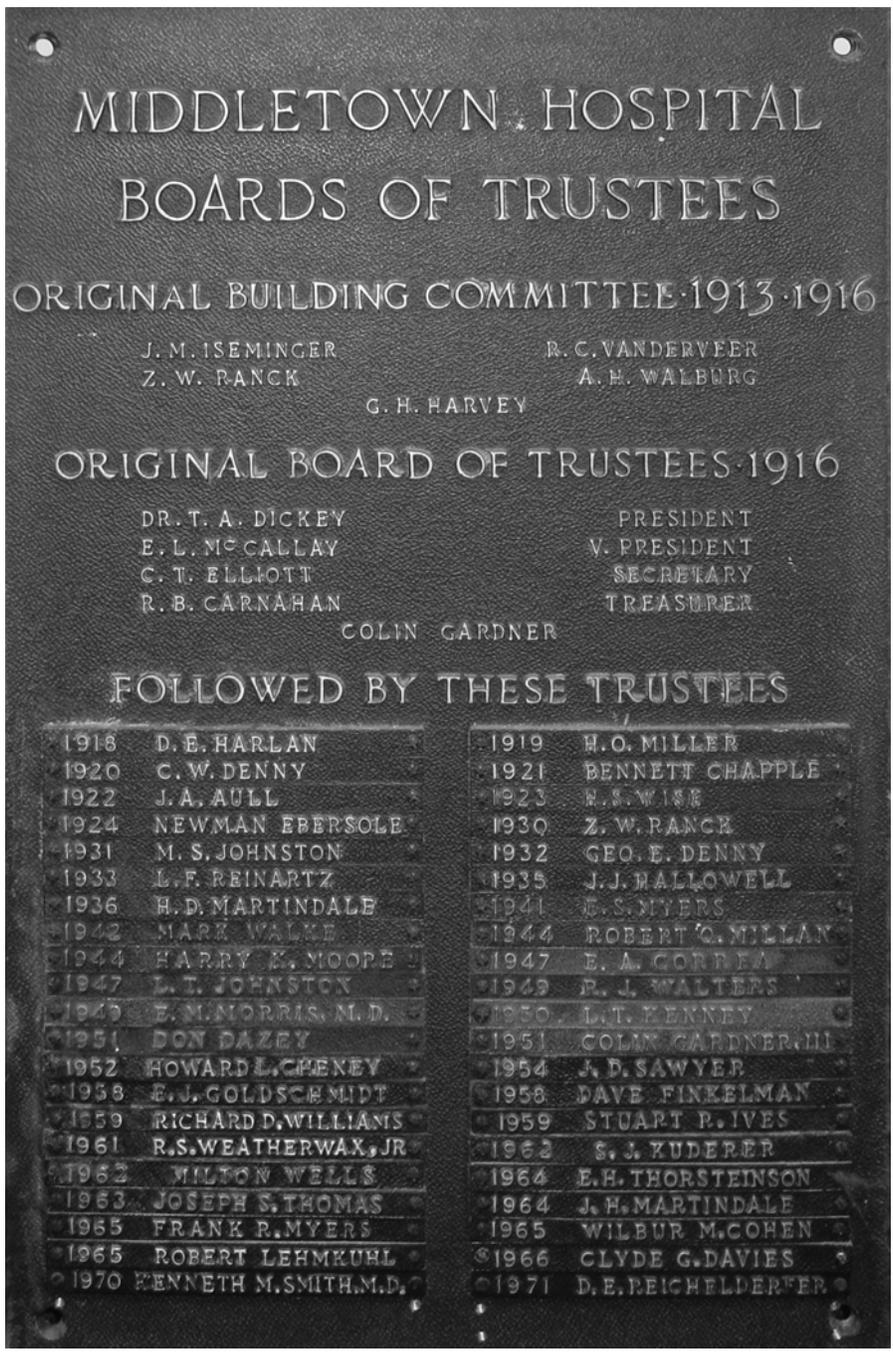

Help Preserve Our History

Atrium Medical Center is just kicking off our centennial celebration.

We value our heritage and want to preserve it accurately. If you can provide additional information about any item in this program – or other aspects of the hospital's history – please contact the Foundation at (513) 420-5144 or Foundation@AtriumMedCenter.org. We apologize in advance for any errors or omissions in this program.

Leaders In Health Education

Beyond state-of-the-art facilities and leading-edge technology, our hospital's most valuable asset is our people. Since the early days of Middletown Hospital, nurturing the best and brightest caregivers has been a priority.

Less than a decade after the hospital opened its doors, the Middletown Hospital School of Nursing began on February 4, 1924, accepting three students into a three-year diploma program. In 1927, the school's first seven nurses graduated, passed their state board exams and became RNs. When the school closed in 1972, the program had graduated 479 nurses, many who stayed with the hospital for their entire careers.

The School of Radiology Technology opened in 1967, ushering in a new wave of interest in the medical field and advancing the science of imaging with its two-year program. The school closed in 1997.

The School of Laboratory Technology opened in 1968 to meet a critical need for laboratory technicians with a 12-month classroom and clinical program. The last class completed training in 1996.

This tradition of education continues today, with Greentree Health Science Academy opening on Atrium's campus in 2012 to connect students to promising futures in health care. In addition, many scholarships created by generous donors support students of all ages in their pursuit of health care careers.
