Premier Health Heart CT

Heart attacks are the #1 cause of death of on-duty firefighters.*

Now there's an easy way to find out if you have early or advanced heart disease – even with no symptoms – so you can take action to help protect your heart.

A Heart CT takes images of your heart's arteries to measure the amount of plaque buildup. Results can allow early detection and treatment of heart disease. All results are evaluated by a board-certified cardiologist and radiologist to give you a calcium score.
